

Scolmore specified for millionaire mansion

The finishing touches have been completed on a sprawling, six bedroom detached mansion located in one of the most desirable locations in the West Midlands, with products from Scolmore's lighting and wiring accessory ranges chosen to meet the high specification requirements of the prestigious, £2 million property.

The individually-designed executive residence features the finest of specifications and Scolmore's new Deco Plus range of premium decorative wiring accessories and Inceptor integrated LED downlights have been installed throughout the three-floor family residence which boasts an impressive 5,500ft² of floor space.

Launched earlier this year, Deco Plus, with its smooth, curved lines offers the sleek, contemporary look that is evident throughout the property. With more than 800 products in the collection, it offers the exceptional degree of flexibility that installers have come to expect from Scolmore's modular switch plates which allow them to create bespoke solutions quickly and easily while on the job.

Scolmore's Inceptor Micro is a fire-rated, integrated LED downlight with a high-powered, compact, pre-wired driver and flow connector. The compact size of the driver gives the Inceptor Micro an overall height of only 55mm which means it can be fitted into a very shallow recess depth of just 50mm - making it one of the most flexible fittings currently available.

In keeping with the growing desire for smart home technology, Scolmore's Click Smart system has been used for the control of lighting throughout the main living areas and master suite. Designed with simplicity in mind, the Click Smart Box provides the home owner with options for extra security, energy saving, comfort and control all via the Click Smart App.

Martin Kings, from M Kings Electrical Services in Bromsgrove, was responsible for the electrical installation and commented: "This was a fantastic project to work on and made all the better with the selection of lighting and wiring accessories from Scolmore's range. It was great to be able to get all the products we needed from one supplier, it just makes it much easier. I've been using Scolmore's Click wiring accessories for the past eight years and you know you can always rely on the quality. The new Deco Plus range is fantastic. I love the curved edges, and we used the Black Nickel finish throughout, which adds a very classy and sophisticated feel to the finishing touches – just what was needed in this stunning property.

"The Inceptor Micro LED downlights are so just easy to fit – and we fitted around 200 of them in total. The Flow connector makes the whole job a simple one with all the work done and ready to connect up.

"I was very impressed with the Click Smart Home Automation system. This isn't something I've fitted before, but once Steve Marley at Scolmore explained it all to me, it was fairly easy to get the hang of and the results are great. To be able to control the lighting throughout the inside and outside of a property from your phone via the Click Smart App is an incredible development in the whole smart home arena. I'm looking forward to using Click Smart on the next big project we've got coming up in Stratford."
